ANOTHER HORRIBLE DISASTER.

Fifty of the Deutschland Survivors Killed and Many Injured.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 .- A dispatch re eived this morning states that fifty persons were killed and many injured on the steamship Mosel, of the North German Lloyd's steamship line, at Bremen to-day, as she was about to sail for New York. The boiler of a tug alongside the Mosel exploded with the result as mentioned above.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The following regarding the Mosel disaster has just been received here:
LONDON, Dec. 11.—As the tug was transferring the Deutschland passengers to the steamer Mosel this morning, the tug's boiler exploded, killing fifty persons. The Mesel will not sail for New York to-day. A great number were injured, some fatally. The steamer was slightly damaged by the explosion and great damage was done to the property on the whart. The agents state that the Mosel will be able to sail to-morrow.

DIRECT BY CABLE—ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

DIRECT BY CABLE-ANOTHER ACCOUNT. LONDON, Dec. 11—A terrible explosion occurred at Bremen Haven this morning. The tacts, so far as yet reported, are as follows: A case of dynamite was lying on the quay, belonging to the passengers' luggage of the North German Lloyd's Company steamship Mosel. The case suddenly exploded with a terrible detonation. It is reported that fifty of the Mosel's passengers were killed outright, and more badly injured.

Lioyd's Line, state that it was not the Deutschland passengers that were killed by the explosion at Bremen Haven to-day. They will not be transferred to the Mosel until she reaches Northampton, next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Their agent at Bremen telegraphs them that a case of dynamite on the wharf at Bremen Haven exploded this morning and many lives were lost. The Mosel was slightly damaged but will sail to-morrow.

LATE WASHINGTON NEWS

Chandler's Confirmation --- The Speaker and his Commit-tees--Work and Wirework.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11-It is stated hat but three Democratic Senators voted for the confirmation of Secretary Chandler. Several voted against his confirmation, but a majority declined to vote at all.

It is stated around the House that as the Democrats are discharging Republican officers of the House, they will be provided for in the Departments, and Democratic clerks will have to be discharged to make room for them.

Democratic clerks will have to be displaced to make room for them.

Great disatisfaction continues to be felt in regard to the distribution of offices by the doorkeeper and Postmaster, and some of the delegates complain bitterly that Virginia and Texas are getting every thing.

Speaker Kerr is still much engaged in making up his list of committees, but he has not yet communicated what his intentions are. It is understood that Mr. Lamar does not wish the Chairmanship of the Committee on Elections, as the duties involved are more arduous than he should be willing to undertake in his present state of health.

D. F. District Attorney. ST. LOUIS, Dec. 9.

To Hon. Edwards Pierrepont, Attorney General, Washington:
I have seen your last dispatch to Col. Dyer. My speech in the Avery case was extemporaneous. Mr. Eaton mailed you on Tuesday a dopy from the stenographer of so much as he thought related to the President. I did not see it, but I stand by the speech as made. I said nothing beyond what my sworn duty required, and for that I have no apology to make.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. II.—The following dis-patch was received here yesterday: DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.
To Hon. D. P. Dyer:
The sworn report of Gen. Henderson's speech, forwarded by Mr. Eaton, and referred to by both you and Henderson in your dispatches yesterday as a correct report, was read in full in the Cabinet tc-lay, and it was regarded by every member as an outrage upon professional propriety thus to reflect, without a shadow of reason, upon the President, by whom his employment by this department was sanctioned in order that no impediment might be placed in the way of bringing to speedy punishment every defrauder of the revenue in St. Louis. You will advise Gen. Henderson of his discharge from furner service, and secure in his place the aid of the most able and efficient counsel you can find without regard to his politics.

[Signed] EDWARDS PIKEREPONT, Attorney General.

ST. Louis, Dec. 11 .- General Hender-

The House Democratic caucus will not, it is understood, take up at the meeting which has been called for Monday next anything for action beyond the appointment of a General Committee to call meetings when expedient.

It is not likely that any discussion as to a general line of policy will be brought up in caucus until after the holidays.

It is now understood that Congress will do nothing before the first of January. The adjournment over till Tuesday was for the purpose of avoiding new business which might have been brought under the open rules. It is now understood that Speaker Kerr will not announce the committeess until the 20th, and following this Congress will adjourn over the holidays.

Judge White's charge is pronounced the most stringent condemnation of polygamy that has ever been delivered from the bench. He charged that the efforts of defendant to excuse himself on the ground of his religion was no defense; that crime could not be committed in the name of religion; that if defendant's religion amounted to an inspiration, and he was thoroughy and honestly imbused with the notion that polygamy was a religious duty, and practiced it accordingly, it was a violation of an act of Congress denouncing it. The delay of the jury was occasioned by three jurors, who were Mormons but not polygamists, being loth to convict. This is regarded as a test case, and the Judge charged with great care accordingly. A Woman and a California Lion.

[Sonora (Cal.) Independent.]

A California lion, which has long been a terror to the solitary African of Indian Bar, was killed by a woman known as "Slim Josie," under the following circumstances: Josie came to the county last spring, and owns a small ranch occupied by her, a cow and caif, a pair of pigs, and a large dog. The dog and caif are now no more, and their taking offied to the killing of the hon. Two weeks ago Josie's dog Bully went out on a hunt and returned no more. Josie, who is strong-minded and fears not the domon man, went out and scoured the woods for three days. On the evening of the third day she found poor Bully, cold and still, clasped in the embrace of death. He had been learfully mangled in the encounter, in which he had come off second best. Josie returned home, and all went well until Saturday night, when she was aroused by the bleating of her caif. She arose, took her trusty rifle, and sailed out to the pen. On her arrival at the pen, she paused, and in the bright moonlight she plainly perceived a large lion tearing and eating her calf. The rifle was promptly leveled and the lion sprang into the sir and dropped dead with a bullet in his brain. As soon as the African heard of the taking off of his enemy, he went and popped the question to Josie, who answered him by booting him off the ranch. She now reigns supreme.

A young and pretty woman who was a passenger by the train from the East yesterday morning had her attention attracted to some pictorial papers which one of the newsboys was vending at the depot, and inquired the price, "Ten cents apiece." "I would like to have one, only I haven't any change with me." Then you don't gets 'en," classically remarked the dealer in literature. The woman hesitated a moment, and then intimated that she would kiss the newsboy if he would give her the paper. Kissing was goodies that he had never hoped for under such circumstances, and he intimated his willingness to accept the proposal, scarceiy thinking she was in earnest; but kiss ness to accept the proposal, scarcely thinking she was in earnest; but kiss him she did, right out on the depot platform, and then, possessing herself of the paper, she entered a car, leaving the newsboy blushing, grinning, and yet looking worried, as if he felt a streak of electricity running up and down his back.
